

Nancy Star, author of CARPOOL DIEM, calculates that she's spent close to a year of Sundays on the sidelines of her daughters' soccer games. While she has never once yelled, "Attack" or "Get her", she does admit to her share of gasping and muttering under her breath.

Nancy's previous novels include the May Morrison Mysteries UP NEXT (a Mystery Guild selection) and NOW THIS, and the psychological thriller, BURIED LIVES (a Literary Guild selection).

Nancy's novels have been translated into French, Dutch, German and Japanese. Her first novel was optioned for a TV movie.

She is also the author of THE CALENDAR CLUB®, an acclaimed mystery series for young children.

Before turning to her own writing, Nancy scouted for films and developed screenplays for The Samuel Goldwyn Company and The Ladd Company.

She currently lives in New Jersey with her wonderful husband, two amazing daughters, and their faithful dog.
